

Instructions for Final Review Paper

For your last assignment in this course you are to write a two-page, double-spaced paper reviewing the course and material. Your paper should be personal in nature discussing your opinion of the course (positive and negative), what you learned, and how your understanding changed from the beginning of the course to the end. Conclude by giving a short explanation of one or two key things you learned from this course and how you plan to apply it to your life.

This project is designed to help you condense the key elements of this course in your thinking and apply it to your life.
